

Clamping Angled Parts

Bill Wells of Olympia, Washington, came up with a clever solution for gluing an angled piece to a flat surface without using fasteners. He simply uses the angled cutoff piece as a clamp block and some double-sided tape between the parts. A bar clamp holds everything together.